this project pulls together classic and modern readings and essays that explore theories of federalism spanning the seventeenth through twenty first centuries of european u s and canadian thinkers this attempts to be a comprehensive reader for students in political theory the emphasis throughout is on the normative argument the advantages or disadvantages of federal and confederal arrangements compared to unitary states and on the relative merits of various proposals to improve particular federations or confederations these also draw on the full range of political science subfields from political sociology political economy and constitutional studies to comparative politics and international relations there are also readings both contemporary and historical that attempt to clarify conceptual issues because of the redistributive nature of institutions and the availability of implementable alternatives with different distributive consequences the desire of federation members to change institutional specifics in their favor is a permanent feature of the federal political process this is so for two reasons first states or their equivalents in democratic federations usually can succeed in renegotiating the rules if they feel sufficiently motivated to do so second in the case of a federation it is more or less clear who stands to benefit from any change in institutions thus the existence of an equilibrium of constitutional legitimacy at the popular and elite levels cannot be taken for granted the authors show that the presence in the political process of agents who are naturally committed to the status quo institutional arrangement can suffice to coordinate voters to act as if they support existing constitutional arrangements first published in 1931 the problem of federalism provides a comprehensive and critical survey of the historical development and practical application of the idea of federalism as a form of state organisation the author explores federal ideas from the eighteenth up until the early twentieth century this extensive study will be useful to students of politics and philosophy the possibility of democracy enhancing uses and anti democratic abuses of referendums reveals a paradox mechanisms of democracy can be exploited to do violence to the basic principles of democracy the limits and legitimacy of referendums seeks to identify standards we might use to assess the democratic legitimacy of a referendum when we cannot rely on the norms of traditional liberal democracy this innovative book explores how referendums manage the tension between liberalism and democracy and whether this device holds promise for reconciling these two commitments a range of scholars from around the world expose how referendums may be abused on one hand to achieve short term political or even personal gains and how on the other they may aspire to reflect the best traditions of deliberative innovative democracy enhancing popular decision making structured around three big questions this book seeks to identify what makes a referendum legitimate first why have referendums on issues of fundamental political importance become so frequent around the world second who are or who should be the people that make decisions about a political community s future and third are referendums an effective and reliable mechanism of popular sovereignty or democratic choice these essays written for scholars public lawyers political actors and citizens bring together diverse perspectives on referendums constitutionalism liberalism and democracy in ways that challenge the conventional wisdom prompt new answers to enduring questions and urge reconsideration of how we evaluate the legitimacy of referendums annotation the egpa yearbook provides an overall view of current scientific discussion concerning networks particularly the governing of networks in european public administration more than 30 presentations by researchers and practitioners of public administration in different european countries guarantee that the wide range of topics related to network governance information technology and also to other special issues of administrative and managerial reforms related to the subject is fully covered the yearbook deals with two main topics centred on governing and developing networks in the first part issues are related to different interpretations of networks involved in social policy reforms administration citizen relationships reforming governance models public private relations also including health care local governance and professional policy networks in the second part networks are discussed from the perspective of information technology among several presentations the authors analyse challenges and applications of new technology in public administration ict networks in social networks and also reforms and improvements of new technology the accent is on how it is bringing new patterns into the public administration of different countries the yearbook demonstrates that a discussion of networks is a rather new and fresh way of thinking about the role of public sector authorities in society reforms of hierarchical structures in public agencies and e governance applications at all levels of government the book discusses the issue of autonomy in india s federal system and its precision and focused nature it inquires into the various aspects of the problem autonomy of the states and its emerging trends with special reference of jammu and kashmir state autonomy the book addresses many controversial unanswered question like should india adopt and opt for dual or competitive model of federalism which has long since been discarded even in the land of its origin or should we evolve robust indigenous solutions to our problem of autonomy of states to change the metaphor do we choose a regression model or a development model of our federal polity all these discussions which deserve sustained citizen interest and national debate have been answered in the present book the focus of this book is the judicial institutionalization of integration processes through the development of dispute settlement mechanisms more especifically in the common market of the south mercosur to date the most important regional bloc in latin america the bloc has been in existence since 1991 and has positioned itself as one of the potential regional blocs for trade and investment while becoming one of the important actors in the international community however its achievements have been tainted by the gaps and problems attached to the core foundation of the regional bloc mercosur has been suffering or experiencing internal disputes and disunity due to its complex and low institutionalization a situation which can be seen as being paradoxical its current dispute settlement mechanism is subject to uncertainty and doubt since its own framework is also under internal and external criticism there has been a series of protocols made in order to tackle the problems of the dsm and to further fix the problems that hinder the cooperation as well as the productivity of mercosur s intra organisation all guided by intergovernmental decision making as such this book seeks to tackle the concept of regionalism and the possible models which have been used or have influenced the establishment of mercosur while discussing the different aspects and developments of each intra organisation this is done in order to evaluate the nature of the problem and future developments that could take place the book also focuses on the prevalence of politicization in mercosur and the pre eminence of presidential diplomacy over the path of regional integration which influence the dsm of mercosur and possible developments that might occur in the near future over the past few decades a clear trend has emerged worldwide toward the devolution of spending and to a lesser extent revenue raising responsibilities to state and local levels of government one view is that the decentralization of spending responsibilities can entail substantial gains in terms of distributed equity and macroeconomic management the papers in this volume edited by teresa ter minassian examine the validity of these views in light of theoretical considerations as well as the experience of a number of countries combining theoretical sophistication with a fundamental comprehension of the political institutions of the usa this study aims to demystify the workings of the united states supreme court and its place in democracy in this book james stoner s purpose is to recover the common law basis of american constitutionalism american constitutionalism in general he argues and judicial review in particular cannot be fully understood without acknowledging their roots in both common law and liberal political theory but for the most part the common law underpinnings of constitutionalism have received short shrift this edited volume focuses on the links between the ongoing crisis in and around ukraine regional diversity and the reform of decentralization it provides in depth insights into the historical constitution of regional diversity and the evolution of center periphery relationships in ukraine the legal qualification of the conflict in eastern ukraine and the role of the decentralization reform in promoting conflict resolution as well as modernization democratization and european integration of ukraine particular emphasis lies on the securitization of both regional diversity issues and territorial self government arrangements in terms of russia s support for self proclaimed donetsk and luhansk people s republics the volume captures the complexity of contemporary hybrid conflicts involving both internal and external aspects and the hybridization and securitization of territorial self governance solutions it thus provides an important contribution to the debate on territorial self government and conflict resolution

this book examines different approaches by which states characterised by federal or decentralized arrangements reconcile equality and autonomy in case studies from four continents leading experts analyse the challenges of ensuring institutional social and economic equality whilst respecting the competences of regions and the rights of groups
