contemporary young adult literature is a relatively new genre this guide provides an overview of the burgeoning field focusing primarily on fiction each of the 32 chapters is devoted to a theme of special significance to young adults and provides brief critical discussions of several related literary works chapters close with lists of fiction for further reading an appendix groups works according to additional themes and a selected bibliography cites relevant critical studies

the planet pern has been colonized for centuries by humans when humans first settled on this world they did not take notice of its sister planet which had an indigenous life form that attempted to land on pern when it came within reach these silver threads fell in a destructive wave on the temperate lands of pern once every 200 years destroying all life they encountered to combat this menace the inhabitants of pern developed a species of dragon that could burn these threads out of the sky before they touched down now centuries have passed between threadfalls and the danger of thread is considered a myth however a dragon rider named f lar knows that the riders are once again needed

James Owen continues to take readers on a journey through the fantastical world of beloved fantasy where dragons are real and dreams and nightmares come true. John and Jack, two of the caretakers of the Imaginarium Geographica, have discovered a plea for help on an ancient medieval parchment. It is not only addressed to them but seems to have been written by their friend Hugo Dyson. Yet before they can discover the origin of the strange book, Hugo walks through a door in time and vanishes into the past. Just like that, the world begins to change. The only hope to restore the proper order of things lies in a forgotten island at the edge of the archipelago where a time travel device left by Jules Verne must be used to race through history itself from the Bronze Age to ancient Alexandria and the founding of the Silver Throne. But even if all of the legendary caretakers from past and present are able to answer the oldest mystery in the world and save Hugo, darker forces may still be gathering against them. And a greater crisis may be at hand. Together with a new enemy, the Imperial Cartological Society, the Shadow King may be unstoppable. The only hope may lie in the Grail Child, Rose Dyson, and her companions' desperate quest to find the only weapon capable of defeating their enemies: the Spear of the Broken Sword, Caliburn. With page-turning action and a great twist, this story is a classic among classics, a volume to be treasured and gifted to those we love.

Science Fiction Fantasy Book Review was founded in 1979 to provide comprehensive coverage of all the major and minor books being released in the genre at that time. This was the golden era of SF publishing, with a thousand titles old and new hitting the stands and the bookshelves each and every year. From the older classics to the newest speculative fiction, this was the period when the best and the brightest shined forth their talents. SF:BR included reviews by writers in the field, by amateur critics, and by litterateurs and university professors. Over a thousand books were covered during the single year of publication, many of them having been reviewed nowhere else before or since. The January 1980 issue includes a comprehensive index of all the works featured during the preceding year. This reprint will be a welcome addition to the literature of science fiction and fantasy criticism. Neil Barron is a retired bibliographer and literary critic, editor of the acclaimed Anatomy of Wonder series. Robert Reginald was the publisher for twenty-five years of Borgo Press and has authored over 110 books of his own.

Like the druidic life force Jack taps, this hearty adventure as personal as it is epic will cradle readers in the hollow of its hand. Booklist starred review: Jack has caused an earthquake; he was trying to save his sister Lucy from being thrown down a well, but sometimes the magic doesn't quite work out. Not only does Jack demolish a monastery, but Lucy is carried off by the Lady of the Lake, and Jack has to follow her through the hollow road which lies underground, aided by Pega, a slave, and the berserker Thorgil. Jack encounters hobgoblins, kelpies, yarthkins, and elves, not the enchanted sprites one would expect, but fallen angels who steal human children for pets. In the eighth century, the world is caught between belief in the old gods and Christianity, and what Jack and his companions do will decide the fate of both religions. From National Book Award winner Nancy Farmer, this second book in the Sea of Trolls trilogy brilliantly enlarges the world of the first story. Look for the conclusion in the islands of the blessed.
