understanding steel design is based on an overall approach to understand how to design and build with steel from the perspective of its architectural applications steel is a material whose qualities have enormous potential for the creation of dynamic architecture in an innovative approach to the reality of working with steel the book takes a new look both at the state of tried and tested techniques and at emerging projects hundreds of steel structures have been observed analyzed and appraised for this book in depth construction photographs by the author are complemented by technical illustrations created to look more closely at systems and details drawings supplied by fabricators allow greater insight into a method of working with current digital drawing tools

this book provides the means for a better control and purposeful consideration of the design of architecturally exposed structural steel aess it deploys a detailed categorization of aess and its uses according to design context building typology and visual exposure in a rare combination this approach makes high quality benchmarks compatible with economies in terms of material use fabrication methods workforce and cost building with exposed steel has become more and more popular worldwide also as advances in fire safety technology have permitted its use for building tasks under stringent fire regulations on her background of long standing as a teacher in architectural steel design affiliated with many institutions the author ranks among the world s best scholars on this topic among the fields covered by the extensive approach of this book are the characteristics of the various categories of aess the interrelatedness of design fabrication and erection of the steel structures issues of coating and protection including corrosion and fire protection special materials like weathering steel and stainless steel the member choices and a connection design checklist the description draws on many international examples from advanced contemporary architecture all visited and photographed by the author among which figure buildings like the amgen helix bridge in seattle the shard observation level in london the new york times building and the arganquela footbridge this book is the first scientific study to focus on awards in architecture and the built environment investigating their exponential growth since the 1980s the celebration of excellence in architecture and related fields remains a phenomenon on which there is strangely little scientific scrutiny what is to be understood from the plethora of award winning projects award winning buildings and awarded professional practices in the built environment year after year glossy images partake in an intense ballet at every local regional national or international award ceremony and they are meant to embody proofs of architectural excellence however it is necessary to take a critical distance to question what awards are meant to embody symbolize and perhaps measure each of the 10 chapters in this volume is centered on one question related to themes as varied as the comparison of pritzker and nobel prizes the prix de rome the redefinition of quality through awards green awards and sustainability the multiplication of sustainable awards heritage awards architecture book awards the awarding of school architecture awards as mediations and awards as pedagogical devices many fields once consolidated have featured a sharp increase in related prizes the original data compiled and summarized in 4 appendices cover more than 150 award granting organizations in some 30 countries our inventory includes upwards of 24 000 prizes awarded at more than 3 100 events the earliest of which is the first instance of western architecture s seminal grand prix de rome in france in 1720 a history of contemporary architecture is thus written through press releases that praise the merits of the heroes as much as their works and achievements and while awards can be vehicles that propel architecture forward they can also be trojan horses in an era that is constantly on the lookout for event driven products small and big news and brand imaging el experto realiza en la obra un completo estudio sobre unas estructuras asombrosas y espectaculares que constan de barras que flotan en el aire estando únicamente sujetas mediante cables a otras barras que también flotan estos sistemas de compresión flotante tienen múltiples aplicaciones en arquitectura arte ingeniería y están presentes en obras como la escultura torre de agujas de kenneth snelson formada por estas barras flotantes o la mayor cúpula del mundo la cúpula del georgia dome estadio de los falcons de atlanta teniendo sus precedentes en el estadio olímpico de munich
